Special Support Centre (SSC)

Prospectus 2022

OFSTED 2018 "Pupils in the specialist support centre make high levels of progress in their learning and in their social and emotional skills. Pupils within the specialist support base regularly work in the main school, providing them with increased opportunities for social interactions and allowing them to make invaluable friendships. Clear structures for tracking pupils' achievements and personalised learning opportunities allow these pupils to make good progress."

"Do Everything in Love; we do our best in all we do and all we say with God's help."

What is the SSC?

Special Support Centres (SSCs) in West Sussex are centres for children with Special Needs, attached to mainstream schools.

Steyning CE Primary School's SSC is called the Robins class and is located within the main building, near to the entrance to the school. It offers specialised provision for 12 children aged between 4 and 11 years of age with speech, language and communication needs within a mainstream Primary school setting.

The speech and language difficulties of the SSC children are described as specific because many of the children's other skills are age appropriate. Robins class is an integral part of the school, and the SSC children are considered full members of their mainstream class.

SSC staff and mainstream class teachers work closely together to identify and meet each child's needs. Children spend time in the SSC unit and in the mainstream classroom at different points of the school day.

What is the Admission criteria for the SSC?

In order to be considered for entry into our SSC, a child will have a significant disorder in one or more of the following areas:

- Receptive and/or
- Expressive language and/or
- Phonology and articulation

The children may also show associated specific learning difficulties with literacy and co-ordination difficulties.

The co-ordinated assessment reports should demonstrate that the child has a speech and language disorder as the primary difficulty; that they require intensive therapy and support within a carefully structured environment, and that their non verbal abilities are within the normal range, unless linked directly to their language difficulties.

For a child to be offered an SSC placement an Education Health Care Needs assessment must have been completed and the child must have an Education, Health Care Plan (EHCP).

Responsibility for allocating places lies with the Local Authority (LA) who take the advice of relevant professionals via the coordinated assessment procedure. This advice includes assessment and reports from the Educational Psychologist, Speech and Language Therapist and teachers who are involved with the child.

A place is offered in the SSC if the child meets the criteria, if parents and Local Authority think the placement would be appropriate and if space in the relevant year group is available.

Some of the children who attend our SSC live a considerable distance from the school and are therefore transported to and from school by minibus or taxi provided by the local authority.

What kind of Speech and Language Difficulties might an SSC child have?

Children admitted to the SSC have not progressed through the usual developmental stages in their acquisition of language. Children may have difficulties in understanding language (receptive language), or in speaking (expressive language), or both. The child's difficulties may fall in one or more of the following areas:

Phonological difficulties: difficulty 'sorting out' sounds heard and producing them correctly. It may be difficult to understand the speech of a child with phonological difficulties.

Syntactic difficulties: difficulty in understanding or producing correct grammar. A child with syntactic difficulties may not understand sentences unless they are short and simple or may produce sentences that sound muddled with words missing or incorrectly ordered.

Semantic difficulties: difficulty with meaning in language. A child with semantic difficulties may have difficulty learning concepts such as 'long/short' or 'behind/ in front' and may confuse words such as lion and tiger or have a limited vocabulary.

Pragmatic difficulties: difficulty using language in a socially appropriate way. A child with pragmatic difficulties might repeat a question instead of answering it; might respond to language too literally; find it difficult to establish eye contact; or may not be able to sustain a conversation.

A child in the SSC may also have less severe associated difficulties, such as difficulty with jumping or skipping (gross motor skills); poor fine motor skills such as using pencils or scissors; or poor attention and concentration. In many cases, difficulties in spoken language will also be reflected in written language and intensive support for literacy may be needed.

What are the aims and values of the SSC at Steyning CE primary?

Our vision at Steyning CE Primary School is to value every child as a unique individual with diverse interests, abilities and needs. We are committed to giving all children every opportunity to achieve highly and to do the best that they can including those with specific speech and language difficulties.

Whilst in the SSC we aim .....

- To improve receptive and expressive language skills
- To improve fluency and speech production
- To improve social skills and interaction with others
- To improve listening, attention and memory skills
- To improve literacy and numeracy skills
- To enable SSC pupils to access the mainstream curriculum with appropriate levels of support
- To enable all SSC children to take part in all aspects of school life

"Do Everything in Love; we do our best in all we do and all we say with God's help."

How are the children taught?

Each child has a timetable of support, tailored to their individual needs. The teacher in charge of the SSC (TiC), the SSC teacher, the SSC teaching assistants, and the Speech Therapist will be involved in delivering this support.

The timetable will vary from child to child and lesson to lesson, but will be balanced between:

- Independent work in class.
- Supported class work.
- Supported small group work in class.
- Structured group work, paired or individual work with the learning focus on specific aspects of the curriculum
- Structured individual or small group work with the focus on specific language skills.

How do you plan and assess individual children's progress?

The EHCP and reports from professionals provide us with the desired outcomes for the child, and this in turn will help us set learning objectives that the child should be working on in order to progress. These objectives are broken down into smaller targets and incorporated into the child's ILP (Individual Learning Plan, which we call 'Support plans' in our school). The support plan is reviewed at least twice a year and new targets set. The targets in the ILPs will be small, achievable steps to address the outcomes as set out in the EHCP.

The Speech and Language Therapist also meets with the Teacher in Charge of the SSC and teaching assistants. They deliver programmes of therapy on a weekly basis and discuss individual children's progress.

Things I'm good at and the things that people like about me are:

I'm good at running, I am good at reading, I'm good at hockey, I'm good at maths. People like that I help them. People like about me helping them at maths.

Things I need to help me are:

Help me at maths, by telling me the questions.

Each year an Annual Review will take place when all interested parties are invited to discuss the progress made over the year and new outcomes set for the forthcoming year. Subsequent support plans are then linked to these outcomes.

The outcomes set out in the support plans are monitored regularly and all staff engaged with the child will identify areas of success and specific difficulties. This enables the planning of support to be most effective. Evidence of work is kept. The SSC staff meet on a weekly basis to plan strategies to help support each child.

What does the daily routine for an SSC child look like?

Most children in the SSC travel to and from school by taxi arriving at 8.30am. If your child does not come by taxi they can still arrive at 8.30, but must be in school by the time that is allocated to their year group, e.g. in Year R at 9.00. All SSC children come into school via the main entrance and then into the SSC. This gives the SSC staff time to read the home contact books to ensure that any difficulties can be dealt with rapidly. It is also a good meeting point for the children.

From 8.30am until school begins at 8.55am there are a variety of early morning activities that involve all the children in the SSC these include; reading, Jump Ahead (gross and fine motor skills activities), maths reinforcement, calendar and weather charts.

Following the early morning activities, the day is individually planned for each child. Children spend differing amounts of time in the SSC and in their classes. For instance: the children might join their class with their support staff, or be withdrawn for Literacy, Numeracy, skills work or support plan target programmes. At other times the children will remain class based to work without support on activities that are appropriate to their needs.

At the end of the day the Reception age children and the children who go home in taxis return to the SSC to collect their coats and book bags. This is an opportunity for the support staff to give 'reminders' to the children and to ensure that everything that needs to go home is sent home.

We use 'Communicate in print' visuals to support all SSC children with their daily timetables.

How does the SSC foster links with parents?

We want to foster an atmosphere of trust and co-operation with our children's families and to do this close contact between SSC staff and parents is vital. As many of the children in the SSC come to school by taxi there is little opportunity for teacher-parent contact before or after school, therefore day to day liaison is maintained through a home-school contact book or via email and phone calls. The book goes home every afternoon and needs to be returned every morning. The book is a log of communication between parents and the SSC and is designed to support the communication that already exists between school and home. Parents are encouraged to respond to any questions or requests and to let us know of any interesting events at home, or anything of significance that has happened that they think we should know. Often this enables us to generate conversations with the children. Weekend news for the younger children is particularly interesting as it can form the basis of the speaking and listening within their social time.

There are twice yearly parent consultation meetings with the SSC and mainstream teacher and parents meet formally with teaching staff for their child's Annual Review.

As in the mainstream school we have an open-door policy which means any parents of prospective and current pupils are always welcome to visit if any specific anxieties or pressing matters arise. Alternatively, they can phone the school and leave a message with the office staff and we will try and get back to you at the earliest opportunity.

What does the SSC at Steyning CE Primary school offer to my child?

- Highly skilled, experienced, friendly, caring staff
- High adult to child ratios
- Adapted teaching for Literacy lessons
- Speech and language Therapy- each child has individual targets set, these are worked on in class, in the SSC and in direct therapy S+L sessions provided by the NHS speech and language service
- Visual support - children with language difficulties often benefit from visual support to help them to understand. We use various methods including Communicate in Print, Pecs, and Makaton (signing) to help them make sense of the language being used
- Small group support when children are integrating in their mainstream class
- An attractive 'light & bright' learning base which has varied and exciting resources
- Through the usual referral processes we have access to a multi-disciplinary team, including Educational Psychologists, Language & Learning support professionals, Educational Welfare Officer, Physical and Sensory support service, Occupational Therapy service, Child and Mental Health Service (CAHMS) and Speech and Language Therapy service

How will you support my child when they are ready to move on from the SSC?

Children remain in the SSC for as long as it is thought necessary and appropriate by professionals, parents the school staff including the Headteacher and the Governors.

The Annual Review is the official forum for discussing future provision: however, parents are encouraged to discuss their concerns at any time.

When your child is due to move on to another school, we will work together to help you decide the most appropriate provision for your child.

A child may move on to:

- Their local Primary or Secondary mainstream school with or without support depending on their needs
- A special school
- A school with an SSC with an alternative designation, e.g. an SSC for children with social communication needs

Transition is carefully prepared for and staff from the new provision are invited to attend the annual review.

How can I help my child at home?

We want to offer your child as much support as we can during their time in the SSC. In order to do this, it is important that we all work together so that they can reach their full potential.

Here are some ways that you can help your child benefit fully from their time in the SSC:

- Contact us immediately to discuss any concerns you might have, but we want to hear about successes too!
- Check your child's book bag and home-school link book EVERY day
- Attend your child's Annual Review and parents evenings
- Check that your child has the right equipment in school e.g. PE kit, reading books etc
- Support your child's language by working on any speech and language therapy activities that we send home - children need a lot of practise to consolidate their learning.
- Read your child's reading book with them and listen to them read to you too.

Don't forget parents
evening!
